Overview

The Journal of Clinical Lipidology is published to support the diverse array of medical professionals who work to reduce the incidence of morbidity and mortality from dyslipidemia and associated disorders of lipid metabolism. The Journal’s readership encompasses a broad cross-section of the medical community, including cardiologists, endocrinologists, and primary care physicians, as well as those involved in the treatment of such disorders as diabetes, hypertension, and obesity. The Journal also addresses allied health professionals who treat the patient base described above, such as pharmacists, nurse practitioners and dietitians.

1. Applicability: These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made by and between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous understandings, communications and representations between the parties.

2. Execution and modification of the order: The order or purchase order for the products or service described in Schedule or budget shall be deemed to be issued by the Client upon Elsevier's acknowledgement of the order, subject to the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If the recipient of the Elsevier Reader acknowledges the

3. Force majeure: Neither party shall be liable for any delay in or default in the performance of its obligations hereunder arising from causes beyond its reasonable control, including but not limited to Act of God, war, fire, floods, embargoes, strikes, lockouts, other industrial disputes, labor disturbances, national emergencies, governmental action or any other event beyond its control. If, under the terms of any order in which Elsevier is selling the products, the Client is required to notify in writing any date prior to the agreed date to Elsevier for the TC, the amount of the payment will be automatically increased to fifty per cent (50%) of the Client's liability, less the amount actually remitted to Elsevier, in default of which an additional interest will be due.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies: Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the prices charged to the Client shall be exclusive of any value added tax, goods and services tax, local tax, sales tax or any other tax which may be levied by any government or other authority. The price/rates for the Products and Services shall be those set out in the relevant Rate Card published by Elsevier from time to time. The Client will be entitled to receive a copy of the relevant Rate Card at any time on request. If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.

5. Terms and conditions: The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the court or courts of the country in which they are domiciled.

6. Distribution: The Client shall not assign, delegate, reproduce, re-publish any of the products or services of Elsevier or its affiliates, sell it directly or indirectly, facilitate any other party to engage in any of these activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or sale of the Products or Services by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers at their own expense, the amounts due to Elsevier.

7. Intellectual property: Copyright and other property rights in all Elsevier publications and all orders of or on behalf of the Client shall remain with Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are limited to the use by the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use that requires the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier, publications, products or Products may be re-used, in whole or in part, without the express prior written permission of Elsevier.

8. Liability and claims: To the maximum extent permitted by relevant laws, Elsevier shall not be liable for any of the following losses which may arise by reason of any breach of the TC or its implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any duty of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law (by reason of any breach of contract, tort (including negligence) or otherwise). No liability will be accepted by Elsevier in relation to any damage caused by any breach of the TC by any third party.

9. Force majeure: Neither party shall be liable for any delay in or default in the performance of its obligations hereunder arising from causes beyond its reasonable control, including but not limited to Act of God, war, fire, floods, embargoes, strikes, lockouts, other industrial disputes, labor disturbances, national emergencies, governmental action or any other event beyond its control. If, under the terms of any order in which Elsevier is selling the products, the Client is required to notify in writing any date prior to the agreed date to Elsevier for the TC, the amount of the payment will be automatically increased to fifty per cent (50%) of the Client's liability, less the amount actually remitted to Elsevier, in default of which an additional interest will be due.

10. Prices, taxes and currencies: Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the prices charged to the Client shall be exclusive of any value added tax, goods and services tax, local tax, sales tax or any other tax which may be levied by any government or other authority. The price/rates for the Products and Services shall be those set out in the relevant Rate Card published by Elsevier from time to time.
