Overview

JACC: Heart Failure publishes the most important findings on the pathophysiology, diagnosis, treatment, and care of heart failure patients. The goal of the Journal is to improve our understanding of the disease, clinical trials, clinical outcomes, and advances in therapies through timely, insightful scientific communication. The Journal will embrace interdisciplinary relationships with neuroscience, pulmonary medicine, nephrology, electrophysiology, and surgery as they relate to heart failure. Articles concerning pharmacogenetics, biomarkers, and metabolomics will also be published.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals made between Elsevier and any third party or to any Client (the "Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties and shall derogate from any previous oral or written representation or agreement. If any provision of these terms and conditions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect.

2. Acceptance and offer

Each order for the Products and Services by the Client shall be deemed to be an offer to the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or [if earlier] Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client thereby confirming compliance of the TC. All orders are accepted subject to availability of the ordered Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, the Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services from Elsevier for its own account and will not resell or use on behalf of any other person or entity. The Client further represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no one other than an identifiable institutional subscriber for their personal use. The Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring the Client to discontinue all display of Elsevier Products and Services from Client, including from any individual whose accounts have been previously properly identified by Elsevier. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with descriptions of the Products and Services as agreed by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing, proofreading, design elements, font and/or color, articles, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued without obligation on the use of any description, diagram or specification. Elsevier shall not be deemed to be bound by any representation or description which may appear in connection with the Products and Services, and cannot be considered a reason for rejecting delivery or, as the case may be, modifying the agreed price.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Any modifications to the agreed order, prices, terms and conditions, delivery schedule, budget, schedule, or on an as-is basis, any order acknowledgment, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier’s discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services, in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier will charge the Client, at the rate stated, and, at the risk of the Client. All dates specified by Elsevier for delivery/performance of the Products and Services are included to be an estimate and time for delivery/performance shall not be made of the essence by notice. If by an as-is modification, delivery will be within a reasonable time.

4. Prices, taxes and terms

Unless otherwise agreed Elsevier will invoice the prices for the Products and Services. Elsevier reserves the right to increase the prices for the Products and Services at any time and for any reason in its sole discretion. All orders must be for a minimum order quantity of five hundred (500) copies and shall be subject to a minimum charge, as indicated by Elsevier from time to time. The Client agrees to pay for all Products and Services and all other charges due to Elsevier in full upon receipt of the invoice. Unless otherwise agreed, payments shall be due within thirty (30) days of the invoice date. All invoices are net and with no set-off or deduction. Final payment is due to Elsevier in order to protect Elsevier’s rights and royalties in the Products. If any payment is late, the Client shall pay interest on the past due amount from the due date until the date of payment at the rate of 2% per month until paid. If any dispute arises between the parties, interest will continue to accrue on any undisputed amounts during the dispute resolution process.

5. Payment

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency invoiced. No payment will be the essence of the TC. Elsevier may set off any credit balance against any amount overdue in the same currency.

6. Distribution

If by reason of labor dispute, strike, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the element, or any other cause beyond the control of Elsevier, such cause continuing for a period of thirty (30) days or more, Elsevier will be excused from performing under the TC, and will be entitled to cancel the TC. Elsevier shall be excused from performance of any obligation under the TC if the Client fails to make any payment to Elsevier when due. Elsevier may perform any of its obligations by means of any third party appointed by Elsevier.

7. Liability and claims

If the Client is unable to perform any obligation under the TC, including without limitation all bank charges and foreign exchange charges, the Client will be solely responsible at its own cost for completing any foreign exchange-related procedures in the said territory that is necessary to make payments to Elsevier under the TC, including without limitation all foreign exchange-related procedures given by the Client to Elsevier to make payments to Elsevier under the TC, including without limitation all foreign exchange-related procedures given by the Client to Elsevier to make payments to Elsevier under the TC.

8. Compliance with laws

The Client agrees not to use, lease, or otherwise dispose of the Products and/or Services in a manner that violates any law or regulation applicable to the Client’s place of business or residency. Client and its officers, directors, employees and agents shall engage in no activity related to its dealings with any employee or official of a government agency or any other government-owned, operated or licensed entity (including, without limitation, state run universities, hospitals and libraries), or political parties or any other organization that is primarily supported by government funds. Any such activity may include, but is not limited to, the giving of financial or other support in any form to any such entity. All employees or agents shall pay, offer, give, promise or authorize the payment, directly or indirectly, of any monies or other thing of value to any government agency or any government-owned, operated or licensed entity (including, without limitation, state run universities, hospitals and libraries), or political parties or any other organization that is primarily supported by government funds. Any such activity may include, but is not limited to, the giving of financial or other support in any form to any such entity.

9. Intellectual property

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals made between Elsevier and any third party or to any Client (the "Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties and shall derogate from any previous oral or written representation or agreement. If any provision of these terms and conditions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect.

10. Advertising & Reprints

Partially enforcing any provision (or prosecuting any breach) of the TC will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, Elsevier will have the right and the Client shall have the obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clauses 5 and 6. In the event of any breach of this representation and warranty, Elsevier will be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring the Client to disclose all recipients of Elsevier advertising material identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with descriptions of the Products and Services as agreed by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing, proofreading, design elements, font and/or color, articles, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued without obligation on the use of any description, diagram or specification. Elsevier shall not be deemed to be bound by any representation or description which may appear in connection with the Products and Services, and cannot be considered a reason for rejecting delivery or, as the case may be, modifying the agreed price.
