Neuromuscular Disorders

Overview

This international, multidisciplinary journal covers all aspects of neuromuscular disorders in childhood and adult life (including the muscular dystrophies, spinal muscular atrophies, hereditary neuropathies, congenital myopathies, myasthenias, myotonic syndromes, metabolic myopathies and inflammatory myopathies).

The Editors welcome original articles from all areas of the field:

- Clinical aspects, such as new clinical entities, case studies of interest, treatment, management and rehabilitation (including biomechanics, orthotic design and surgery).
- Basic scientific studies of relevance to the clinical syndromes, including advances in the fields of molecular biology and genetics.
- Studies of animal models relevant to the human diseases.

The journal is aimed at a wide range of clinicians, pathologists, associated paramedical professionals and clinical and basic scientists with an interest in the study of neuromuscular disorders.

In addition to original research papers, the journal also publishes reviews and mini-reviews, preliminary short communications and book reviews, and has editorial, correspondence and news sections. Reports on congresses and workshops, taking the form of a digested or very comprehensive commentary, pointing out some of the particular highlights in relation to the contributors and giving some detail of the area covered, important contributions and a list of participants, are also welcome.

The journal is published bi-monthly and aims at rapid publication of high quality papers of scientific merit as well as general interest to a wide readership. There is also a fast track for rapid publication of new material of outstanding scientific merit and importance.

Neuromuscular Disorders is the official journal of the World Muscle Society an international, multidisciplinary, scientific society, dedicated to the advancement and dissemination of knowledge in the field of neuromuscular disorders.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals, and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the "TC". They supersede any previous communications between the parties.

For the purposes of this TC, "Products and/or Services" shall mean all of Elsevier’s products and services marketed by Elsevier or any of its agents or sub-agents and ordered and delivered under this TC, and shall include any finished goods, products, services, software and technology, documentation and manuals, whether developed by Elsevier or by third parties and licensed to Elsevier for inclusion in the Products and/or Services.

2. Execution and modification of the order

No modifications of the order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified recipient, or the use of multiple subscriptions per identified recipient, are permitted. The Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any breach of this representation and warranty, Elsevier may terminate this TC.

3. Credit limits

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency itemized. Invoices will be rendered in advance of delivery or as an estimate of the invoice amount. Where the Client has not been given a discounted rate for volume by Elsevier, and the Client does not order the quoted volume, Elsevier shall charge the Client at a reduced discount and the Client shall pay any additional amount found owing. If the Client orders in excess of the quoted volume, Elsevier shall be entitled to refuse delivery of the remaining quantities and the Client shall pay the extra at the reduced discount.

4. Limitation and disclaimer of liability

Elsevier’s liability, whether in contract or tort, shall be limited to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law and further subject to the following:

(i) refund to Client a pro rata portion of the fee which Client has paid to Elsevier for display of the Advertising Content in respect of any unaccepted alterations; or
(ii) where such representations and warranties are given by Elsevier in writing, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediately rescind this TC and terminate all rights, obligations and duties of the Client under this TC and cease or suspend continuation of the Client’s right to display the Advertising Content in a similar manner or form.

5. Price revisions and tax

The Client shall remain liable for any undisputed part of such invoice. Elsevier shall be entitled, to the extent permitted by law, to increase the fee or rate charged to the Client at any time after its receipt of written notice of cancellation by Elsevier. Orders for advertisements must be cancelled in writing prior to the relevant advertisement being scheduled to appear in the relevant issue of the Client.

6. Delivery

The Client shall be responsible for collecting from its customers or beneficiaries any undisputed amounts due. Elsevier shall be entitled, to the extent permitted by law, to increase the fee or rate charged to the Client at any time after its receipt of written notice of cancellation by Elsevier. Additional charges, including, but not limited to, freight, insurance and handling and transportation charges, will be charged to the Client.

7. Intellectual property

The Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any breach of this representation and warranty, Elsevier may terminate this TC.

8. Compliance with laws

The Client is responsible for determining whether the underlying products/services are in compliance with all applicable laws, rules, industry codes, regulations and generally prevailing custom and practice.

9. Indemnity

In such event, Elsevier may either (i) publish alternative Advertising Content in consultation with the Client or (ii) withdraw the Advertising Content from publication without liability to the Client or (iii) pay to the Client a reasonable sum in accordance with the subject matter of the争议.

10. Advertising & Reprints

Payment will be made to Elsevier in the currency itemized, and invoices will be rendered in advance of delivery or as an estimate of the invoice amount. Where the Client has not been given a discounted rate for volume by Elsevier, and the Client does not order the quoted volume, Elsevier shall charge the Client at a reduced discount and the Client shall pay any additional amount found owing. If the Client orders in excess of the quoted volume, Elsevier shall be entitled to refuse delivery of the remaining quantities and the Client shall pay the extra at the reduced discount.

11. Audit

The Client shall be responsible for collecting from its customers or beneficiaries any undisputed amounts due. Elsevier shall be entitled, to the extent permitted by law, to increase the fee or rate charged to the Client at any time after its receipt of written notice of cancellation by Elsevier. Additional charges, including, but not limited to, freight, insurance and handling and transportation charges, will be charged to the Client.

12. Notice

The Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any breach of this representation and warranty, Elsevier may terminate this TC.

13. Termination

The Client shall acknowledge the products/services are in compliance with all applicable laws, rules, industry codes, regulations and generally prevailing custom and practice.

14. Governing law

Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to disclose all recipients of any advertisement to be displayed or produced, including the name and address of each recipient. Elsevier shall have the right to seek any other relief it deems necessary against the Client.

15. Data protection

Any returns of the products shall be subject to the relevant Elsevier company’s return policy...
