Multiple Sclerosis is an area of ever expanding research and escalating publications. Multiple Sclerosis and Related Disorders is a wide ranging international journal supported by key researchers from all neuroscience domains that focus on MS and associated disease of the central nervous system. The primary aim of this new journal is the rapid publication of high quality original research in the field. Important secondary aims will be timely updates and editorials on important scientific and clinical care advances, controversies in the field, and invited opinion articles from current thought leaders on topical issues. One section of the journal will focus on teaching, written to enhance the practice of community and academic neurologists involved in the care of MS patients. Summaries of key articles written for a lay audience will be provided as an on-line resource.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, offers, and agreements made between the Publisher and its agents or their officers or employees ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (the "Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous understandings or communications between the parties. The Client’s acceptance of any order acknowledgement, or any part thereof, shall not be deemed to have made any changes or additions to these terms and conditions. Any variations to the terms of this document shall only be valid if expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s Liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation.

2. Offer and acceptance/Description

(1) Each order for the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No offer by Elsevier to sell the Products and Services shall be deemed to be an acceptance of any order until and unless Elsevier explicitly accepts that order by written confirmation. (2) No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or Elsevier's authorized representative. (3) If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.

3. Execution and modification of the order

(1) All orders for the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No offer by Elsevier to sell the Products and Services shall be deemed to be an acceptance of any order until and unless Elsevier explicitly accepts that order by written confirmation. (2) No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or Elsevier's authorized representative. (3) If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.

4. Liability and claims

(1) The Client shall be responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of the sale of the Products or Services as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Where general terms and conditions of sale are provided, reference should be made to those terms and conditions. Any dispute or claim by the Client shall be resolved by arbitration. (2) If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, order of government, law, executive or regulatory authority, or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part, the affected party shall notify the other party of its inability to perform within a reasonable time. (3) In the event of such occurrence, the affected party shall be entitled to delay the performance of its obligations under the TC as long as reasonably practicable but no longer than the time required for the event to be cured. (4) The affected party shall be entitled to delay the performance of its obligations under the TC as long as reasonably practicable but no longer than the time required for the event to be cured.

5. Payment

(1) The Client shall pay for the Products and Services at the prices set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. (2) No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or Elsevier's authorized representative. (3) If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time. (4) The Client shall allow Publisher's authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client's premises (or such other premises as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant timeframe set by Elsevier (the "Closing Date"). Where no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.
