Medical Dosimetry

Overview

Medical Dosimetry is the key source of information on new developments for medical dosimetrists. Practical and comprehensive in coverage, the journal features original contributions and review articles by medical dosimetrists, oncologists, physicists, dosimetrists and radiation therapy technologists on clinical applications and techniques of external beam, interstitial, intercavitary and intraluminal irradiation in cancer management. Each issue also presents a review of new literature, including summaries of current articles of interest to medical dosimetrists, as well as book reviews, letters to the Editor, news on job opportunities and a calendar of upcoming events.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions apply to all offers, proposals, and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous understandings or communications between the parties.

2. Offer and acceptance

 Elsevier shall be deemed to have accepted any order placed by the Client for the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until written acknowledgement of an order is issued by Elsevier. Elsevier reserves the right to reject any order or part thereof, even if an Elsevier employee or representative has accepted an order in writing. The Client acknowledges that variation of any kind (except as permitted in the order acknowledgement) may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier’s discretion. If, at the request of Elsevier, the Client requests additional terms and conditions, these shall be subject to Elsevier’s prior written approval. These terms and conditions shall govern the order and bind both parties thereto.

3. General

In connection with this TC, Elsevier shall be entitled to correct any errors or omissions in its orders or of the TC or to make any changes thereto as Elsevier shall determine without incurring liability to the Client for any such errors, omissions or changes. Proceedings for personal gain or for that of Elsevier or Elsevier’s affiliates (any such act, a “Prohibited Payment”). A Prohibited Payment shall be deemed to be made if a Client makes a Prohibited Payment with the knowledge that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the TC, and the Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

In the event of any dispute or difference arising between the Client and Elsevier under the TC, the dispute shall be referred to an arbitrator to be appointed by the President of the Arbitration Institute of Wisconsin. The decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding upon the parties.

5. Liability and claims

In no event shall Elsevier be liable for any loss or damage, whether direct, indirect, incidental or consequential (including, without limitation, special, exemplary, punitive, or incidental damages, lost profits or revenue, business interruption, or costs of any nature) arising out of the dispute between the Client and Elsevier.

6. Distribution

The Client shall not allow Publisher’s authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client’s premises (or any other premises as specified by Elsevier) within the relevant timeline set by Elsevier (the “Closing Date”). Where payments are not received in full, Elsevier will endeavor to do so. Elsevier reserves the right to limit the Client’s ability to advertise if the Client does not pay in full.

7. Intellectual property

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, war, or any act of God or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is unable to perform.

8. Force majeure

The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

9. Audit

In the event of any dispute or difference arising between the Client and Elsevier under the TC, the dispute shall be referred to an arbitrator to be appointed by the President of the Arbitration Institute of Wisconsin. The decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding upon the parties.

10. Confidentiality

The Client and its officers, directors, employees and agents shall keep confidential and shall not disclose to any person or entity the existence and nature of the Client’s relationship with Elsevier, except as required by law.

11. Audit

In the event of any dispute or difference arising between the Client and Elsevier under the TC, the dispute shall be referred to an arbitrator to be appointed by the President of the Arbitration Institute of Wisconsin. The decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding upon the parties.

12. Compliance with laws

The Client shall allow Publisher’s authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client’s premises (or any other premises as specified by Elsevier) within the relevant timeline set by Elsevier (the “Closing Date”). Where payments are not received in full, Elsevier will endeavor to do so. Elsevier reserves the right to limit the Client’s ability to advertise if the Client does not pay in full.
