Medical Dosimetry

Overview

Medical Dosimetry is the key source of information on new developments for medical dosimetrists. Practical and comprehensive in coverage, the journal features original contributions and review articles by medical dosimetrists, oncologists, physicists, dosimetrists and radiation therapy technologists on clinical applications and techniques of external beam, interstitial, intercavitary and intraluminal irradiation in cancer management. Each issue also presents a review of new literature, including summaries of current articles of interest to medical dosimetrists, as well as book reviews, letters to the Editor, news on job opportunities and a calendar of upcoming events.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent(s) (“the Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (“the Products and/or Services”) and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form an integral part of the total contract between the Client and Elsevier. These terms and conditions shall not apply to any third-party products or services which shall be subject to additional terms.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Order shall mean an order acknowledgement in writing by Elsevier to the Client which sets out the details of the Products and/or Services subject to such acknowledgement. Elsevier shall be entitled to combine several orders into one order. These terms and conditions shall form an integral part of the total order acknowledgement and may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier’s discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier provides additional materials, such additions shall be subject to separate terms and conditions.

3. Cancellations & Returns

The Client may cancel any order provided that written confirmation of cancellation is received by Elsevier before the Closing Date, copy run in previous issue may be inserted. Client shall retain a complete copy of all materials submitted by Client. The Client is solely responsible for making sure that all proposed advertising copy is received in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the “Closing Date”). Where copy is received late or not at all, although Elsevier will endeavour to do so, Elsevier shall not be held responsible for such delays and/or omissions. Failure of any kind, however caused, shall not entitle the Client to any compensation or damages or to any discount, deduction or alteration of price, which shall in any event be limited to the invoice value of the part of the Products or Services which has not been delivered. If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.

4. Prices, taxes and currency

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing the prices for the Products and Services shown in Elsevier’s present price list (whether price list or online) are subject to change as necessary. Currency exchange rates may also change, and if they do, the Client shall be responsible for any costs or expenses incurred as a result of such change. Exchange rates shall be published by Elsevier and shall be final and binding on the Client.

5. Liability and claims

To the maximum extent permitted by relevant legislation Elsevier shall not be liable for any direct, indirect, Punitive or Consequential, special, exemplary, incidental, or other financial loss of the Client caused by any breach on the part of Elsevier; and (ii) Neither Party shall be responsible for death or personal injury to the extent caused by the other Party’s own negligence or willful intent or the negligence of its employees or other persons for whom the other Party is legally responsible.

6. Force majeure

Neither Party shall be liable for the failure to perform any of its obligations hereunder if such failure was caused by any event which was beyond the reasonable control of the affected Party and which, by its nature, could not reasonably have been avoided or overcomes, such as: acts of God, acts of war, legal restrictions, civil disturbances, inability or delay in obtaining required government or other consents or licenses, or other circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the affected Party. Nothing in the TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other Party against the other Party’s own negligence. Elsevier’s liability for any other loss or damage shall be limited to the invoice value of the Products or Services which has not been delivered. Elsevier reserves the right to make any changes in the TC without notice, either in the nature or form of any identified or unidentifiable third party products or services. Elsevier shall be under no obligation to continue to provide any such products or services where the Client’s order is no longer economically viable or is otherwise discontinued by the third party products provider.
