Overview

Leukemia Research is an international journal which brings comprehensive and current information to all health care professionals involved in basic and (or) applied clinical research in leukemias, lymphomas, multiple myeloma and other hematologic malignancies. The editors encourage the submission of articles relevant to normal and leukemic hemopoiesis, biochemistry, cell biology, immunology and molecular biology as well as epidemiologic and clinical studies.

Specifically, of major interest will be articles that encompass the application of oncogenes, growth factors, cell markers, cell cycle and differentiation agents, novel therapeutics and clinical trials in both the acute and chronic leukemias as well as the myelodysplastic syndromes. In addition we solicit selected articles on the rapidly increasing specialty of marrow or stem cell reconstitution after high dose therapy with curative attempt in patients with a wide range of neoplasms.
Audience
Medical scientists, haematologists, immunologists, oncologists and chemotherapists.

ELSEVIER TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SUPPLY

1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the TC, which includes, but is not limited to, the BURLINGTON SUPPLIER OF CATALOG AND BROCHURES ("the SBC") and the A.C. BURLINGTON LIBRARY SERVICES ("the BBL Service") and elsewhere as stated in the TC and any websites referred to in the TC. A list of the companies within the Elsevier group is available at www.elsevier.com/about/elsevier.html.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description
An offer made by Elsevier constitutes an offer to enter into a legal contract on the terms of the TC, and a purchase order from Elsevier constitutes an acceptance of the offer and an acceptance of the terms of the TC. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Elsevier represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products or Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber or principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified eligible individual subscriber for valid personal use. Client acknowledges that representation of this nature and purpose will cause impairment harmless to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all receipts of the Products and Services from Elsevier, including all actual products that have not previously been properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with descriptions of the Products and Services agreed by both the parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing processes, technical design, size and kind of address file, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising created by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characterization of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for rejecting the TC, as the case may be, for any other reason.

3. Execution and modification of the order
Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget, order, or schedule as set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier’s discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier extends additional services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall act in the name of, to the account of, and at the risk of the Client. Any dates specified by Elsevier for delivery/performance of the Products and Services are intended to be an estimate and time for delivery/performance shall not be made of the essence by notice. If no date is specified, delivery/performance shall be within a reasonable time.

4. Prices, terms and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing in the programme for the Products and Services and the TC are set out in Elsevier’s current price list (whether print or online). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, transport and insurance charges unless otherwise agreed in writing, and shall also be exclusive of any taxes, import duties or other levies imposed on the sale or import of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as appropriate. Where applicable, Client shall provide to Elsevier Client’s VAT registration number or other evidence of tax exemption to Elsevier at the time of placing its order. If, under the laws of the territory in which Client is selling the Products, the Client is required to withhold any tax on the payment of the invoices, the Client shall make such withholding and shall deduct and pay such tax to Elsevier.

5. Payment
Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the date in the currency to the Client’s instruction. Time for payment shall be of the essence. Elsevier may set any valid credit limits for any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its current credit limit. Legal and beneficial title in any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (net) any cleared funds. All sums due to the Client in respect of the Products and all other sums which are or which become due to Elsevier from the Client on account must be paid to Elsevier. If the Client wishes to pay to Elsevier before it has provided all sums due to the Client, Elsevier does not undertake any responsibility for the payment in such a case. The Client may net any disputes relating to the Products from payment until such a case is settled. Elsevier’s guarantee to the Client regarding the Products shall remain unaffected by any such a dispute. Elsevier shall be entitled to recover payment for the Products notwithstanding that ownership of any of the Products has not passed from Elsevier. For the avoidance of doubt, no intellectual property rights in any Elsevier Products shall transfer to the Client, Products shall be at the Client’s risk as from delivery. The Client shall make all payments due under the TC without any deduction whether by way of set-off, offset, discount, statement or otherwise, unless the Client has a valid court order requiring an equal amount to such deduction to be paid to Elsevier from the Client. From the date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of % may be charged to the Client on any balance outstanding on a monthly basis for any sums outstanding, together with any collection fees incurred by Elsevier. If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice or (part of) the Client, the Client shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, send full details of such dispute to Elsevier in writing. The Client shall remain liable for full payment of the disputed amount, including any collection fees incurred by Elsevier. If the Client disputes any invoice or (part) of the Client, no payment by the Client shall be regarded as a settlement of the debt in respect of the disputed invoice or (part), or any other invoice or (part) of the Client. If any payment is withheld or set-off by the Client, Elsevier shall be entitled to receive for the Products and Services the amount of any such withheld or set-off in full and interest at the rate of % from the due date of the invoice for the Products and Services. The Client agrees that all interest and other sums outstanding are fully paid. Elsevier shall be entitled to apply any monies received by the Client, to clear any of its outstanding debts to Elsevier.

6. Distribution
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of the sale of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its losses from any uncollectable amounts. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under these terms.

7. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights to the Products, Elsevier proposals, publications and other Services or Services or Services or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to the Client by and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. Elsevier grants Client non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property interest in the Products. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Services.

8. Liability and claims
TC LIMITATION OF LIABILITY
Subject to the terms set out in the TC, Elsevier shall not be liable to the Client, the Client’s employees, agents or any third parties for the loss or damage arising out of or in connection with the Client’s use of the Products or Services provided to the Client under the TC.

9. Force majeure
Any delay in the provision of the Products or Services by Elsevier will be excused if such delay is caused by any act or omission of the Client or by events beyond the reasonable control of Elsevier, including fire, terrorism, war, strike, lock-out, nationalization, requisition or other governmental action, or any other cause of a similar nature.

10. Disputes
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of the sale of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its losses from any uncollectable amounts. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under these terms.

11. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights to the Products, Elsevier proposals, publications and other Services or Services or Services or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to the Client by and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. Elsevier grants Client non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property interest in the Products. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Services.

12. Compliance with laws
Elsevier shall be entitled to calculate the price for the actual volume at the end of the applicable year at a reduced discount and the Client shall forthwith pay such reduced discount. If the Client places orders in excess of the quoted volume, Elsevier shall return to the Client any amount overpaid by the Client. Orders placed in excess of the quoted volume shall be paid for at the prices and terms and conditions currently prevailing at the time of placing the order, subject to the Client’s right to return to Elsevier any amount overpaid by the Client. If there is any dispute about the additional amount paid by the Client, Elsevier shall be entitled to calculate the amount due according to the terms of delivery and performance set out in the TC, which terms shall be definitive unless agreed by Elsevier in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation. Where products are sold to the Client that contain third-party software or other such media the same may be subject to additional license terms.

13. Cancellations & Returns
The Client shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Services and Products subject to the TC. No offer placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or Services to the Client or commission performance of the Services for the Client. All products ordered are accepted subject to availability of the ordered Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Elsevier represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber or principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified eligible individual subscriber for valid personal use. Client acknowledges that representation of this nature and purpose will cause impairment harmless to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all receipts of the Products and Services from Elsevier, including all actual products that have not previously been properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with descriptions of the Products and Services agreed by both the parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing processes, technical design, size and kind of address file, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising created by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characterization of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for rejecting the TC, as the case may be, for any other reason.
