Contact your sales representative for all digital advertising rates and opportunities.
1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, offers and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the "Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the TC. They supersed any previous agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They are subject to change without notice.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Each order for the Products and Services by the Client shall be deemed to be an offer to Elsevier. Elsevier shall not be bound to accept any order unless and until Elsevier has issued a written acknowledgement of order to the Client. Elsevier reserves the right to accept or reject any order in whole or in part.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Orders must specify a definite schedule of insertions, issues and sizes of space for a series of advertisements. No advertising orders will be accepted for periods longer than one year. Where an order for a series of advertisements includes insertions in more than one issue and the Client specifies a definite schedule of insertions, the Client shall be liable for the full price of all insertions which have been scheduled, regardless of whether the insertion has been made or not. The Client shall be entitled to request a refund for any insertion which has not been made, but Elsevier reserves the right to retain such a request until the end of the applicable series and to refuse to refund any such request if the insertion has not been made within the time agreed.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Prices quoted shall be net of all taxes and duties, unless otherwise agreed. Prices exclude delivery. Prices quoted in a currency other than that of the invoice shall be subject to adjustment to reflect any change in bank or currency exchange rates that may occur between the date of the order acknowledgement and the date of delivery. Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are incurred or committed in the course of and in relation to the Client's dealings with any employee or official of a government agency or any other government owned, controlled or sponsored organisation or business. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due and payable in respect of the Products or Services. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any claim or expense that Elsevier may incur in connection with any of these expenditures.

5. Payment

Unless otherwise agreed Elsevier shall be entitled to all sums due and payable within thirty (30) days of its invoice date. Payment must be made free of any deduction, discount, or interest. All payments are to be made in the currency quoted in the invoice, unless otherwise agreed. If an order is cancelled, then Elsevier shall be entitled to retain an amount equal to the pro-rata portion of the fee which Elsevier has paid to the Client for display of the Advertising Content until the date from the Client's delivery of the fee in full. The Client may only make any deductions, if any, or ajustments relating to the payment of fees or charges which are not agreed in writing before the Closing Date. Copy run in previous issue may be inserted. Client shall retain a complete copy of all materials delivered to Elsevier. Elsevier shall take reasonable care but shall not be liable for accidental loss or damage thereto. Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are incurred or committed in the course of and in relation to the Client's dealings with any employee or official of a government agency or any other government owned, controlled or sponsored organisation or business. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due and payable in respect of the Products or Services. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any claim or expense that Elsevier may incur in connection with any of these expenditures.

6. Distribution

The Client shall conduct itself in such a way as to prevent any unlawful conduct by either of the parties in respect of the Products or Services as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgment or invoice. The Client shall not be entitled to assign any part of the TC or any right, title or interest under the TC to any other party. Any variation to the TC and any other agreements entered into between the parties shall be in writing and signed by an authorised signatory of Elsevier. Elsevier reserves the right to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its credit limit. The Client shall pay all amounts due and payable to Elsevier in the currency in which Elsevier's order acknowledgment or invoice is denominated. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications or other content (the "Advertising Content") may be stored in any automated data file and/or reproduced, whether electronically, mechanically, by photocopying, recording or in any other manner or form, without the specific prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not be entitled to use any such content or information except as expressly permitted in the TC. Elsevier may not be able to arrange for such copy to be published on the agreed date or for the agreed period. Payment...
