Journal of Dentistry

Overview

The Journal of Dentistry appeals to a substantial international readership with the desire to keep up to date with research and developments occurring in the field of dental science, and explains the relevance of these innovations to the contemporary practice of clinical dentistry. The journal provides clinicians, scientists and students of dentistry with a comprehensive bi-monthly periodical publishing original research papers, reviews and leaders, and supportive material including a calendar. Topics covered in the journal include management of dental disease; long term clinical trials; evaluation of dental equipment; new experimental techniques; epidemiology and oral health; dental biomaterials science; restorative dentistry; periodontology; endodontology; operative dentistry; prosthodontics and paediatric dentistry, including orthodontics.
Audience
Dental research scientists, materials scientists, clinicians, students of dentistry, dental materials and equipment manufacturers.

1. Applicability These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). The TC supersedes any previous written terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out in the order acknowledgement, Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Where general terms and conditions of business are proposed by the Client, any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third-party software or other such software may be subject to additional license terms.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description Each order for the Products and Services from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier (or if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commencement of performance of the Services for the Client. All order products are accepted subject to availability of the ordered products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier, it is Elsevier's policy that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If the Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to order subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identifiable individual subscriber valid for personal use. Personal acknowledgment that selected representation and warranty will cause incomplete harm to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all recipients of Products and Services from Elsevier, including all actual recipients that have not been previously identified to Elsevier. Elsevier shall commercially reasonable efforts to comply with all regulations and Services agreed by both the parties in the relevant order, including but not limited to, freight, transport, technical, design, and size of address, weight and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertisements issued by Elsevier and any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier's catalogues or brochures are issued published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical, errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for rejection or return, as the case may be, in exchange for any such price.

3. Execution and modification of the order Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget, schedule or set out in the order acknowledgment, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall act in the name of, and on the account of, and at the risk of the Client. Any dates specified by Elsevier for delivery/performance of the Products and Services are intended to be at the time of delivery/performance for the matter or service and Elsevier shall not be responsible for delivery/travel/damages in the event of failure by the Client to receive by the agreed date.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the prices quoted to the Products and Services for the Client shall be listed in Elsevier's current price list (whether print or online). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, transport, insurance charges and other taxes unless specifically otherwise stated in the order acknowledgment.

5. Payment Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency invoiced. Time for payment shall be the essence. Elsevier may set any credit limits for any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its current credit limit. Legal and legitimate title in any tangible products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (in cash or cleared funds) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and all other sums which are or may become due from the Client to Elsevier on account of any other transactions.

6. Distribution The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under the TC.

7. Intellectual property Copyright and all other intellectual property rights in the Products, Elsevier's publications and all other products or works shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier to the Client are restricted to use solely for the purpose of carrying out the Client's obligations under the TC as set out in the order acknowledgement, invoice or any undertaking arising from any such written acknowledgment. No licence or rights are granted to copy, reproduce or distribute any other than the Client's own behalf and the shall cease as principal when making such a sale. The Client shall not be entitled to recover payment for the production of the Products notwithstanding that ownership of any of the Products the Client has not passed from Elsevier. For the avoidance of doubt no intellectual property or any Elsevier products shall transfer to the Client. The Client shall be at risk as from delivery. The Client shall make all payments due under the TC without any deduction whether by way of set-off, discount, chargeback, allowance or otherwise.
