1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, offers and communications made between the Client and any third party or its agent (the "Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entirety of any agreement between the parties for the "TC". They supersede any previous agreement or understanding. Neither the provisions of this TC shall be construed as modifying the Client's contract with Elsevier. Any representation or other term or condition in any agreement with Elsevier which is inconsistent with these terms shall be of no force and effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorised signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's Liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are supplied to the Client, these will be subject to additional terms.

2. Order and acceptance

Descrip Here shall be the exclusive responsibility of the Client and the products supplied to the Client under this TC will be governed by this TC. All orders shall be deemed accepted until such time as Elsevier has received and acknowledged the order from the Client.

3. General and modification of order

Any modifications to the Client's order, price or description of supply, schedule or budget for the Products or Services, agreed in writing by both parties in the relevant order acknowledgment, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. In the event that the Client, Elsevier reserves additional

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the Client agrees to pay all taxes, duties and levies imposed on the supply of any goods or services by any government or other authority. The Client will be responsible for paying any additional tax, duties or levies that may be imposed on the Client by any government or other authority.

5. Payment

Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are required to be incurred by the Client in conjunction with the performance of the Services or the execution or performance of a contract provided that such payments are permissible under the Applicable Laws. Client and its officers, directors, employees or agents shall pay, offer, give, promise or authorize the payment, directly or indirectly, of any payment for or on account of any political party, official or candidate for public office, political committee, public official, or political action committee, the primary purpose of which is to influence the outcome of an election.

6. Distribution

The Client shall not assign, transfer, or sell any of the Products or any other products or Services in which it holds any ownership rights, to any third party unless it obtains the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall retain a complete copy of all materials supplied by Elsevier in connection with the performance of the Services, whether in electronic or print format, which are to be used solely for the purpose of the Services and may not be used for any other purpose unless Elsevier agrees in writing to the contrary.

7. Intellectual property

Elsevier reserves the right, at any time, to remove any Advertising Content that it reasonably believes to be inappropriate or that does not comply with Elsevier's standards. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier may not be able to arrange for such copy to be published on the agreed date or for the agreed period. Payment shall be made by the Client to Elsevier in full and without deduction or set-off. In the event of any such refusal or termination, the Client shall immediately cease all use of the Advertising Content and shall remove it from all media in which it was placed. If the Advertising is not placed by the Client in accordance with the agreed schedule, Elsevier shall have the right to withhold payment for the Advertising and any other charges due to Elsevier. Elsevier may not be able to arrange for such copy to be published on the agreed date or for the agreed period. Payment shall be made by the Client to Elsevier in full and without deduction or set-off. In the event of any such refusal or termination, the Client shall immediately cease all use of the Advertising Content and shall remove it from all media in which it was placed.

8. Liability and claims

THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY RELEVANT LAWS (i) Elsevier shall not be liable for any liability arising out of or related to the Advertising Content or Client's breach or alleged breach of any of the foregoing representations or warranties or (ii) the use, reproduction, distribution, adaptation or display of any work or material by the Client or by any third party under any other order, Elsevier reserves the right to withhold supply of the Products or Services to the Client if Elsevier determines, in its sole discretion, that the Advertising Content or Client's contract or any other product or service under this TC or the execution or performance of a contract provided that such payments are permissible under the Applicable Laws, or (iii) the Client's failure to pay any amounts owed to Elsevier. Client acknowledges and agrees that the Client's failure to pay any amounts owed to Elsevier will result in the termination of this TC and all rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to use solely by the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall provide Elsevier with prompt payment for all sums due and payable hereunder without deduction or set-off and irrespective of any dispute or controversy that may arise under this TC.

9. Force majeure

The provision of any service or product described in the schedule is subject to the Client's right to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier shall not be liable to the Client for any delay or failure or any other reason and flows through any external circumstances, which prevent Elsevier from providing any service or product described in the schedule, whether or not such circumstances are within Elsevier's control.

10. Advertising & Reprints

The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier reserves the right, at any time, to remove any Advertising Content that it reasonably believes to be inappropriate or that does not comply with Elsevier's standards. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier may not be able to arrange for such copy to be published on the agreed date or for the agreed period. Payment shall be made by the Client to Elsevier in full and without deduction or set-off. In the event of any such refusal or termination, the Client shall immediately cease all use of the Advertising Content and shall remove it from all media in which it was placed.

11. Applicability
