2. Application of Terms and Conditions

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (“the Products and/or Services”) and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). They supersede any previous written supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, “Elsevier” shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Ordinarily, this is the publisher of the Products and/or Services, but may, at the request of the Client, be any of Elsevier’s sales offices, agents, or (if the Client is a governmental body) the University Corporation for Technology Commercialization (UCTC) and any other group companies.

3. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Each order for the Products and/or Services shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier (or its agent) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. All products are ordered subject to availability of the intended products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed, Elsevier reserves the right to change in good faith and without notice the Products or Services it is offering or it is supplying or supplying Elsevier from the Client for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the Client is an agent, for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber for personal gain or for that of Elsevier or its employees. No person other than the Client’s authorized representative is authorized to accept any contract on behalf of Elsevier.

4. Intellectual property

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and or Services are owned by Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. The Client shall not, without the prior written permission of Elsevier, do any act that is actionable under any applicable law in respect of the Products or Services including, but not limited to, reproduction, storage in any medium (electronic, mechanical, by photocopying, recording or in any other manner or form), translation, transmission or publication in any way.

5. Payment

Payment terms are set out in the TC. All invoices are payable in accordance with the conditions set out in the TC. Payment in advance shall be made if requested by Elsevier. Elsevier may withhold delivery until the full amount due has been received by Elsevier. Any discounts, credits, or allowances will only be given if expressly agreed in writing. If the Client is entitled to any discount or any extension of the due date for payment of an invoice, the Client must, no later than the due date of such invoice, send full details of any dispute to Elsevier in writing.

6. Audit

The Client acknowledges that Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the charges have been agreed accordingly. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

7. Cancellations & Returns

If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be in writing. This fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of receipt of the cancellation. The fee will be calculated according to the rules established by Elsevier from time to time. Any payment made by the Client for cancelled orders shall be refunded. All cancellations are final and no refunds will be issued. The Client acknowledges that this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to disclose all recipients of Elsevier marks or other proprietary rights or (4) are otherwise objectionable to Elsevier. In such event, Elsevier may either (i) perform the Services on behalf of the Client at Elsevier’s risk, but in no event at a reduced discount and the Client shall be liable for all expenses incurred in doing so; (ii) terminate the TC and be relieved of all obligations to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall be entitled, at any time, to demand payment in advance and may suspend performance until such advance payment has been received. Where the Client is indebted to Elsevier for any other Product or Services, the Client acknowledges and agrees that unless agreed otherwise in writing. The Client shall not be liable for any lost profits or any other loss, direct or indirect, attributable to the termination of this TC or any other legal or equitable remedy, including without limitation, all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

8. Cancellation & Returns

The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

9. Force majeure

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor materials, fire or any other action of the elements, accidents, power or telecommunications failure, customs delays, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of all obligations to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject party shall notify Elsevier of the event of force majeure which shall use good faith efforts to complete the Services as agreed.

10. Advertising & Preprint

Except as otherwise agreed in writing, the Client acknowledges and agrees that Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the charges have been agreed accordingly.

11. Audit

The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

12. Non-disclosure

If the Client receives from Elsevier any confidential information or trade secrets, the Client shall hold the same in strict confidence, not use the same for any purpose of its own or to disclose to any third party or to use the same other than in connection with the performance of this TC and to the extent necessary to make payments to Elsevier under the TC.

13. Cancellations & Returns

If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice or part thereof, the Client shall, as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, send full details of such dispute to Elsevier in writing. In such event, the Client shall remain liable for all amounts due under the TC up to the date of delivery of the dispute notice. Any Set Off claimed by the Client shall not operate to discharge the Client’s liability for the undisputed part of such invoice. Elsevier shall be entitled to charge interest at a rate not less than the rate of interest charged by the Bank of England at the time of delivery of the dispute notice. If the Client is not made aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party, the Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clause 5.

14. Intellectual property

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and or Services are owned by Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

15. Payment

Payment terms are set out in the TC. All invoices are payable in accordance with the conditions set out in the TC. Payment in advance shall be made if requested by Elsevier. Elsevier may withhold delivery until the full amount due has been received by Elsevier. Any discounts, credits, or allowances will only be given if expressly agreed in writing. If the Client is entitled to any discount or any extension of the due date for payment of an invoice, the Client must, no later than the due date of such invoice, send full details of any dispute to Elsevier in writing.

16. Audit

The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

17. Cancellations & Returns

If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be in writing. This fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of receipt of the cancellation. The fee will be calculated according to the rules established by Elsevier from time to time. Any payment made by the Client for cancelled orders shall be refunded. All cancellations are final and no refunds will be issued. The Client acknowledges that this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to disclose all recipients of Elsevier marks or other proprietary rights or (4) are otherwise objectionable to Elsevier. In such event, Elsevier may either (i) perform the Services on behalf of the Client at Elsevier’s risk, but in no event at a reduced discount and the Client shall be liable for all expenses incurred in doing so; (ii) terminate the TC and be relieved of all obligations to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall be entitled, at any time, to demand payment in advance and may suspend performance until such advance payment has been received. Where the Client is indebted to Elsevier for any other Product or Services, the Client acknowledges and agrees that unless agreed otherwise in writing. The Client shall not be liable for any lost profits or any other loss, direct or indirect, attributable to the termination of this TC or any other legal or equitable remedy, including without limitation, all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

18. Cancellation & Returns

The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

19. Force majeure

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor materials, fire or any other action of the elements, accidents, power or telecommunications failure, customs delays, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of all obligations to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject party shall notify Elsevier of the event of force majeure which shall use good faith efforts to complete the Services as agreed.

20. Advertising & Preprint

Except as otherwise agreed in writing, the Client acknowledges and agrees that Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the charges have been agreed accordingly.

21. Intellectural property

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and or Services are owned by Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

22. Liability and claims

The Client shall not be liable for any of the following which may result from any breach of this TC or any implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any duty of any kind of imposed on Elsevier by operation of law: (a) loss of anticipated profits or expected future business; (b) damage to reputation or goodwill; (c) any damage, costs or expenses payable to Elsevier by any third party; (d) loss of any kind or cost; (e) loss or death of any person or animal; (f) loss of any person or kind; (g) injury or death of any person or kind; (h) destruction or loss of any property or or property right, false advertising, unfair competition, defamation, invasion of privacy or rights of celebrity, violation of any anti-discrimination law or regulations, or any other right of any person or entity; (i) Advertising Content with any applicable laws, rules, industry codes, regulations and general code of conduct or any other kind of regulation; (ii) Client agrees that in no event shall Elsevier be liable for any loss or damage or any indirect cost, including without limitation all bank charges and foreign exchange charges, to the full extent permitted by law.

23. Exclusion of Liability

The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

24. Force majeure

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor materials, fire or any other action of the elements, accidents, power or telecommunications failure, customs delays, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of all obligations to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject party shall notify Elsevier of the event of force majeure which shall use good faith efforts to complete the Services as agreed.

25. Advertising & Preprint

Except as otherwise agreed in writing, the Client acknowledges and agrees that Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the charges have been agreed accordingly.

26. Compliance with law

The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.
