Overview

The Seminars in Arthritis and Rheumatism provides a broad interpretation of the field, including aspects of general medicine and orthopedics. Each bimonthly issue presents comprehensive review articles focusing on topics in rheumatology. It is of interest to rheumatologists, internal medicine specialists, orthopedic surgeons, immunologists and specialists in bone and marrow metabolism.

2. Applicability: These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (“the Products and/or Services”) and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). The Client shall be bound by the terms and conditions of the TC and all specifications, drawings, designs, documents and similar items, incorporated into the TC. The Client shall have no claims against Elsevier for any alleged omission or error in the TC or for any misunderstanding by the Client of the TC. Nothing in the TC will affect or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or other such software may be subject to additional licence terms.

3. Execution and modification of the order: Any amendments to the agreed product or service description, budget, schedule or to the TC for any reason whatsoever, must be in writing and signed by an authorised signatory of Elsevier.

4. Offer and acceptance: Description: Elsevier shall be deemed to have accepted an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No offer placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. All order terms are accepted subject to availability of the ordered Products. Until otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Elsevier represents and warns that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warns that it is purchasing the Products and Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified eligible individual subscriber for personal use. Client acknowledges that representation of this nature will cause imitable harm to the interests of Elsevier and Elsevier will be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to disclose all recipients of the Products and Services from Elsevier, including all actual recipients that have not previously been properly identified by Client. Elsevier will use commercially reasonable efforts to supply the Services and goods agreed by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing, process design, technical design, size and kind of address, weight and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued solely as an aid to the purpose of giving an approximate idea of the Products and Services described therein. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design character of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for repudiating the contract, so the case may be, the price being reduced.

5. Payment: Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency set forth on the invoice. Time for payment shall be of the essence. Elsevier may set any credit limits for any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded or exceeded credit limit. Legal and beneficial title in any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (in cash or cleared funds) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and all other sums which are or which become due to Elsevier from the Client on account.

6. Distribution: The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products or Services of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Delay or failure in obtaining such payments will not affect Elsevier’s obligation to make payments to Clients under Clause 9. Any dispute or claim arising out of or relating to the Products and/or Services shall be exclusively submitted to and resolved by arbitration in the English language under the rules of the English Institute of Arbitrators and at the then current arbitration fees, with the final award of the arbitrator being made in writing and final and binding on the parties, which decision is final and binding on the parties and cannot be altered by any court. Any dispute or claim arising out of or relating to the Products and/or Services that cannot be resolved by arbitration in the English language will be submitted to the jurisdiction and exclusive venue of the courts of England and Wales.

8. Liability and claims: Client: The Client acknowledges and agrees that the TC contains exclusions and limitations of liability. Elsevier shall not be liable for any loss, damage or expenses (whether direct, indirect, incidental, consequential or otherwise) suffered by the Client as a result of or caused by the Products and/or Services (including but not limited to any lack of fitness for a particular purpose or use, failure to perform or delay in performance, breach of contract or tort, negligence or any other cause of action). The Client acknowledges and agrees that in no event shall Elsevier be liable to the Client for any lost profits or anticipated savings.

10. Governing law and court: The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales (the “exclusive jurisdiction court”) for the resolution of any claim or controversy arising out of or in connection with the TC or the subject matter of the TC and all related claims. Subject to the limitations set forth in Section 8, the Client and Elsevier agree that no joint, multiple or representative action or proceeding shall be brought by or on behalf of the Client or Elsevier in connection with any dispute. The Client and Elsevier agree to be bound by the exclusive jurisdiction provisions set forth in this Section 10. The Client agrees to waive any personal jurisdiction. Except as provided in this section, the Client and Elsevier agree that any controversy or claim arising out of or relating to the Products and/or Services shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the exclusive jurisdiction court, and the Client agrees not to bring any action or proceeding relating thereto in any other court.

11. Client: If the Client is an individual, the Client represents that the Client is of the age of legal majority in the jurisdiction where the Client resides and is capable of understanding, and that the Client accepts and agrees to be bound by the TC and agrees to assign to Elsevier the Client’s entire estate and interest at law in the Products, any proceeds received or receivable in respect of the Products, and any other rights arising under or in connection with the sale of the Products.

12. Minimum order creation: After the Client has ordered the Products for delivery, the Client shall pay for the Products, in full, prior to delivery.

13. Cancellations & Returns: If the alterations requested are unacceptable, unless such changes are due to an event of force majeure. Elsevier can invoke the right to be delivered, rejected or to be rejected any order for reprints of material that has not been published.
