ESMO Gastrointestinal Oncology

Overview

ESMO Gastrointestinal Oncology is the European Society for Medical Oncology's latest peer-reviewed open access journal, dedicated to publishing high-quality research and commenting on all aspects of the diagnosis, treatment and understanding of gastrointestinal cancers. The journal aims to publish experimental, translational, diagnostic and therapeutic research. Specific areas of interest include but are not limited to gastrointestinal cancer biology and epidemiology, prevention and early detection, advances in molecular, genetic and imaging diagnostics, therapeutic studies from pre-clinical to clinical (phase I-IV) with a focus on targeted and immunotherapy, translational research, patient-oriented studies, psychosocial aspects of disease, treatment of long-term morbidity and survivorship, palliative and supportive care, novel methods and clinical protocols. The journal welcomes original articles, reviews, mini reviews, editorials, research methods and clinical trial summaries, and correspondence. In addition, it provides in-depth commentaries from leading experts and engages in active debate on important topics via its pro and con discussion section. ESMO Gastrointestinal Oncology is committed to providing swift review and publication supported by our team of experienced international experts and key opinion leaders. The journal will provide essential reading for cancer researchers, clinician-scientists, clinicians with a focus gastrointestinal cancer, patient advocates and all health care professionals with a specific interest in gastrointestinal cancers. The journal rapidly disseminates the best innovative clinical and translational research and aims to improve the quality of education, prevention, diagnosis, treatment and patient care worldwide.

1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the "Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the order acknowledgement or invoice for the particular Products and/or Services. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing by and with an authorized signatory of Elsevier, Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party product or software such a sale may be subject to additional licence terms.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description
Each order for Products and Services placed by the Client shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier (or if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. For all Client orders, Elsevier is accepted to accept orders that are subject to availability of the Products or Services. The Client agrees that it is responsible, and not Elsevier, for providing a complete, accurate and up-to-date description of the Products it requests. All information about the Products or Services are based on information and knowledge Elsevier has at the time of acceptance of the order and may be subject to change thereafter. Elsevier reserves the right to alter the information contained in the TC and to change prices at any time for any reason.

3. Prices, taxes and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing the prices for the Products and Services shall be set out in Elsevier's current price list (whether print or online). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, insurance, transport and insurance charges unless otherwise agreed in writing, and shall also be exclusive of any taxes, import duties or other taxes imposed on the sale or import of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as applicable. Where applicable, Elsevier shall provide to the Client's VAT registration number or other evidence of tax exemption to Elsevier at the time of placing its order. If, under the laws of the territory in which Client is selling the Products, the Client is required to withhold any tax on the purchase, Elsevier shall be entitled to request and shall, where necessary, charge tax from the Client. If and when applicable, the Client acknowledges that it is responsible for paying any such tax. Payment to Elsevier in any currency shall be subject to any applicable exchange rate in effect at such time. The Client agrees that it has provided Elsevier with written evidence of tax or other similar authorities and shall pay the tax or other similar authorities where an invoice is issued and Elsevier shall be entitled to increase the invoice value of the Products or Services to include any such tax or other similar authorities. Elsevier reserves the right to increase the invoice value of the Products or Services to include any tax or other similar authorities.

4. Payment
Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the date of invoice. Time for payment shall be of the essence. Elsevier may set and vary credit limits for any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its current credit limit. Legal and beneficial title in any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (net of any cleared funds) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and all other sums which are or which become due to Elsevier from the Client on account of whatever cause. The Client may not resell the Products until Elsevier has been paid for the Products. If the Client wishes to resell or otherwise dispose of the Products before payment has been made to Elsevier, the Client shall be responsible for ensuring that such resell or other disposal is made in an arm’s length transaction at market prices. If the Client fails to remit payment when due, the Client shall pay all interest at the then effective rate (including, without limitation, statutory late charges) from the due date of the invoice to the date of payment in full and shall also pay all costs of collection, together with any costs or expenses incurred by Elsevier. If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice or payment, the Client shall, as reasonably practicable, notify Elsevier in writing within ten (10) days of the due date of such invoice, send full details of such dispute to Elsevier in writing and, in such dispute, the Client shall maintain all obligations under the TC.

5. Liability and claims
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, war, acts of God or unforeseeable causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part in its obligations set forth in the TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject matter of these TC will be effectual for good faith efforts to comply with the TC’s obligations.

6. Distribution
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full control and shall ensure all of its losses from any uncollectible amounts. Delay or failure in obtaining such information shall not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under the TC.

7. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights relating to the Products and Services, and all other Elsevier works, whether published or unpublished, shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to use solely by and on behalf of the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client agrees that it will not act in any way that would be contrary to the applicable laws, regulations or codes of practice. The Client shall not copy, reduce, reproduce, modify or adapt the Products or Services or, in any manner, distribute, disclose, distribute, rent, lease, sub-license, assign, sell, distribute, transfer or otherwise use the Products or Services other than in accordance with the TC, and shall not authorize any other party to act on its behalf in the manner described in this paragraph. The Client acknowledges that it has purchased the right to use the Products and Services and that it is not the owner of the Product or Services. The Client shall not remove any copyright notice appearing on the Products or Services and shall not remove from the Products or Services any notice of copyright owned by Elsevier. The Client is responsible for ensuring that any reproduction, distribution, display or other use of the Products or Services is in accordance with applicable copyright laws and regulations and any other applicable laws, conventions and judgments. The Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier and to hold Elsevier harmless from and against all claims, actions, proceedings, demands, costs, expenses, damages and other liabilities (including legal fees) arising out of or in connection with the Client’s use of the Products or Services or the Client’s breach of the terms of this paragraph. The Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier and to hold Elsevier harmless from and against all claims, actions, proceedings, demands, costs, expenses, damages and other liabilities (including legal fees) arising out of or in connection with the Client’s use of the Products or Services or the Client’s breach of the terms of this paragraph.

8. Quality and specifications
The Client shall allow Publisher’s authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client’s premises (or to any other premises that may be relevant) for the purpose of inspecting Client’s facilities, books and records to the extent that such access is necessary for the purpose of monitoring the Client’s performance under the TC. Elsevier shall not be responsible for the accuracy of any information supplied by the Client to Elsevier. Elsevier shall be entitled to verify the accuracy of any information supplied by the Client.

9. Compliance with laws
The Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the “Closing Date”). Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier reserves the right to publish a standard advertisement, to run in any position at Elsevier’s discretion and to charge the Client for the cost of such standard advertisement at the then-prevailing rate. Copy received after the Closing Date shall be included in any available space and charged at the then-prevailing rate. Where proposed advertising copy is received after the Closing Date, Elsevier reserves the right to charge the Client additional costs for the reproduction, layout and printing of such advertising copy, and the Client agrees to pay such additional costs on receipt of an invoice from Elsevier. If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, war, acts of God or unforeseeable causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part in its obligations set forth in the TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party.

10. Advertising & Reprints
Elsevier reserves the right to withhold supply of the Products or Services under the TC in the event that any of the Client’s representatives or employees engaged in commercial or business operations act in a manner which is manifestly prejudicial to the good name and repute of Elsevier or its affiliates. Elsevier may set and vary credit limits for any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its current credit limit. Legal and beneficial title in any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (net of any cleared funds) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and all other sums which are or which become due to Elsevier from the Client on account of whatever cause. The Client may not resell the Products until Elsevier has been paid for the Products. If the Client wishes to resell or otherwise dispose of the Products before payment has been made to Elsevier, the Client shall be responsible for ensuring that such resell or other disposal is made in an arm’s length transaction at market prices. If the Client fails to remit payment when due, the Client shall pay all interest at the then effective rate (including, without limitation, statutory late charges) from the due date of the invoice to the date of payment in full and shall also pay all costs of collection, together with any costs or expenses incurred by Elsevier. If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice or payment, the Client shall, as reasonably practicable, notify Elsevier in writing within ten (10) days of the due date of such invoice, send full details of such dispute to Elsevier in writing and, in such dispute, the Client shall maintain all obligations under the TC.

11. Audit
Client shall allow Publisher's authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client's premises (to or arrange for Publisher’s authorized representatives to have access to other relevant premises) for the purpose of inspecting Client’s files, books and records to verify compliance with the TC.

12. Compliance with laws
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, war, acts of God or unforeseeable causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part in its obligations set forth in the TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party.

13. Cancellations & Returns
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the order acknowledgement or invoice for the particular Products and/or Services. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing by and with an authorized signatory of Elsevier, Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party product or software such a sale may be subject to additional licence terms.

14. General
The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of such corporate domicile for the purposes of any dispute arising out of or in connection with the TC or as a result of any action taken in connection with the TC.
